

Epilogue

Your old friends the Puzzlesmiths approach at the end of the final engagement challenge and offer you a toast, “Well done and congratulations on completing the Singapore Puzzle Hunt 2023!”

With your help, Rachel passed the final engagement challenge by winning against Eleanor, and received the family heirloom as promised. Immediately thereafter, Rachel managed to placate Eleanor, and finally won her acceptance with her sincerity and love for Nick. So Rachel and Nick were able to carry out their planned engagement with the Eleanor's blessings at long last.

And with that, Rachel has also become a Puzzle Rich Asian. The only thing more puzzling than love is family. She would have many other gatherings in future with all her relatives who have an abundance of puzzles. Although you had aided Rachel well in the puzzle solving so far, she does have a natural flair and had picked things up very quickly. Who knows where she got her innate puzzle talents from? In any case, you are confident that she would be able to manage and hold her own next time even without your help.
