

Interaction at the Gathering

When the gathering ended, you bumped into a few familiar old friends who are fellow puzzle enthusiasts too. They are the Puzzlesmiths, and have asked to have an interaction to catch up with you, and to get some help as well.

[Please contact Hunt HQ via puzzlesmiths@sgpuzzlehunt.com or Discord immediately to let us know the earliest timing when your team members (as many as possible) would be available for this virtual interaction. You will then receive from us a Zoom link, or if you prefer, you could invite us to your Discord server for the interaction. While waiting for the interaction, you can proceed on solving any unlocked puzzles first.]

Although Rachel has found a way to endear herself to Nick's relatives, there is still the most important family member. Nick's mother, the domineering matriarch Eleanor, still opposes their planned engagement. Eleanor is upset that Rachel does not similarly come from a "Puzzle Rich" background, and would be unworthy of Nick. So, she has set a series of engagement challenges which Rachel must pass in order to prove her worth. Eleanor does not think that Rachel would have the puzzle skills to pass these challenges, and has offered her family heirloom as the prize if Rachel is able to pass the final engagement challenge.

After helping Rachel manage her relatives, hopefully you can help her pass Eleanor's engagement challenges too, so that Rachel and Nick can carry out their planned engagement.
